

APPLICATION TO OBTAIN A COPY OF, OR AN EXTRACT FROM, THE REGISTER OF WATER LICENCES

Use this form to request the Department search the Register of Water Licences for records of any water licences and allocations issued to a particular person, company or partnership. The Department will provide details of the licence, details of the holder of any interest over the licence and whether or not there are any outstanding licence fees or demerit points recorded against the licence

Some of this information is freely available to the public through the Departments Water Information System web site at <http://wrt.tas.gov.au/wist/>. If you go to this site select "Water Entitlements and Dam Dermits", then select "Search for Water Entitlements". You can then search by either entering the water licence number or the licence holder's name and pressing the "search" button. This should return a list of all of the allocations on that licence or for all licences held by that client. This information will identify whether or not there is an interest held over the licence but not who the interest holder is.

Further information in relation to any conditions on the licence can be obtained by clicking on the small map of Tasmania on the far right of the row. This will open up a new page and by clicking on the "Water Entitlement Report" button on this page this will generate a new page which will contain all of the information that is held on a water licence. This page can be saved and downloaded as a pdf document by clicking the "Download" button at the bottom of the page.

Water Licence information is also now accessible through DPIPWE's List map page. The water licence information layer displays all of the current water allocations across the state and details of each allocation can be obtained by clicking on the relevant red diamond.

If the information available on either of these web pages is insufficient you should go ahead with completing and submitting this form to the Department.
