

Crop Protection Permit

FACT SHEET AND APPLICATION FORM

If you have stock or crops being damaged by wildlife, you may apply for a crop protection permit (CPP). Please read this information before completing and submitting your permit application

Who can apply?

The owner of the land, a manager or the lessee can apply. Where there is more than one land owner, the applicant is responsible for confirming they have authority to apply. Where a property is managed or leased, the applicant must provide land owner details.

When applying for a CPP, you must identify the:

- properties to be listed on the permit;
- the wildlife species damaging crops or stock;
- how many animals you wish to apply to take; and
- how you intend to control the animals.

The Department cannot grant a CPP unless satisfied that the damage caused by the wildlife is posing an unacceptable risk and the CPP is required to prevent the destruction of, or injury to, any stock or plants caused by the wildlife specified in the permit. A CPP to protect plants or stock can include any plants that are cultivated and/or used in a commercial activity.

The main holder of a CPP is authorised to allow another person to take wildlife under the authority of the CPP, as if that other person were the holder of the permit, with the exception of Forester kangaroo taken commercially.

How do I apply?

Complete and send in the attached application form (not this fact sheet).

If you wish to apply for a CPP to take Forester kangaroo commercially, please request an Application for a Crop Protection Permit to Take Forester kangaroo commercially. This application allows for joint application under the Wildlife (General) Regulations 2010 with the commercial shooter you wish to nominate. Each shooter must complete the additional permit holder details form which is a part of this application form.

Your Compliance Obligations

A CPP that authorises the use of a firearm to control wildlife requires any person acting under the authority of that permit to adhere to all requirements of the Firearms Act 1996. For example, any authority given under a CPP to allow a firearm to be used to control wildlife on a specified property requires the person acting under the authority of the CPP to obtain permission (gain consent) of the occupier of the dwelling house prior to discharging a firearm within 250 metres of the dwelling house.

Useful information

- Laws can be accessed from www.legislation.tas.gov.au

What will I receive?

The main permit holder document in your name.

An additional permit holder document to provide to other people (ie, your shooters). You may freely copy the permit in order to provide additional copies.

If receiving a fallow deer or Forester kangaroo CPP, tags will form a part of the permit, except on King Island for fallow deer.

FACT SHEET AND APPLICATION FORM CONTINUED

What do I have to do?

Comply with permit conditions.

Complete all necessary details on the additional permit holder document prior to distribution. This is a condition of a CPP and penalties may apply for noncompliance.

Further, your permit can only be given to a person who has not been convicted of an offence under the Nature Conservation Act 2002, the Animal Welfare Act 1993, the Firearms Act 1996, the National Parks and Reserves Management Act 2002 or the Threatened Species Protection Act 1995, in the past five years. You should establish this is the case before providing a copy of your permit to other people.

Who needs a wallaby licence?

All wallaby CPP holders who are: not full-time employees; members of the landowners, Lessee or Manager's immediate family; or a person under the age of 18 years who is not shooting; must hold a current Wallaby Hunters Licence to possess the wallabies taken under the authority of the CPP.

Returns

Upon the expiry of a CPP or filling of the permit quota, take information must be returned to the Department.

The main permit holder must record all of the animals taken under a CPP.

Five year wallaby and possum CPP only require a return upon request by the Department. An annual record of animals taken should be recorded and kept.

These records need to be kept for five years after the expiry of the permit. An Annual Record Summary table is provided on the permit.

In the instance of fallow deer CPP on King Island, an annual return is required.

It is important to understand the return requirements for the permit you might receive.

Further permits will not be granted if take details for expired permits have not been received.

Shooting logbook pages are available upon request.

Tag Allocation

You are encouraged to keep a record of tag number allocation.

Permit Renewal

Complete the New Application section on your permit when completing return information, with the exception of CPP Forester kangaroo commercial. An officer will be in contact soon after.

Personal Information

Information on the collection, maintenance, use and disclosure of personal information can be found on our website DPIPWE Personal Information Protection Policy | Department of Primary Industries, Parks, Water and Environment, Tasmania

The main permit holder must write the additional permit holder's full name and address on the permit copy.

Assign a permit quota or limit of animals to be taken by the person holding the permit copy (if applicable).
